Weekly Newsletter

Dear Parents,

This week the children have enjoyed learning about Funnybones, some of the activities they have enjoyed are making their own x ray pictures with chalk, using story stone to retell the story, labelling body parts, exploring 'real' bones in our investigation area and ordering them from shortest to longest.

Homework:

Attached is a sheet with lots of different length bones. Please can you spend time talking to your child about longest and shortest, can you cut the bones out and ask your child to order and stick them in their homework book from shortest to longest.

Parents evening is on 18th October, I am looking forward to seeing you all then, if you haven't booked an appointment please come and see me or contact the school office to book an appointment.

Word of the week - and

Please feel free to practise reading and writing this word at home.

Next Week

Next week we will continue with the theme ourselves, we will be creating our own skeletons and writing speech bubbles to go with our pictures, we will be making and using props to act out the story, we will be learning to order numbers to 20 and the children will become archaeologists...I wonder what they will discover!

Thank you for your cooperation, if you need to discuss anything please do not hesitate to contact me.
