

Celebrating World Down's Syndrome Day 2019
Rock Your Socks to School
Thursday 21 March 2019

Dear Parents and Carers

World Down's Syndrome Day is celebrated each year on 21 March and this year we'll be joining in by holding a Rock Your Socks to School Day.

In exchange for a donation of £1, pupils are asked to wear colourful, mismatched socks to School as funky socks have become an emblem for Down's Syndrome throughout the world.

All monies raised will be donated to DSWestPennine Reg Charity 1140539, a local charity that helps children and young people with Down's Syndrome to achieve their potential.

During the week we will also include an Assembly to raise awareness and understanding of this condition.

In return for participating in this event, children will receive a free giant Gingerbread Sock Biscuit as a thank you from the Charity.

Please be aware, if your child has an allergy or special dietary requirements, that the Gingerbread Sock Biscuits contain dairy products, eggs and gluten, and may also contain traces of peanut.

Thank you in advance for your support.
