Homework over the holidays: Using the plan that we have completed in class, complete a first draft. Incorporate an opening that uses passive voice and dialogue to advance the story.

Some children can also make a start on learning lines.

Now we have decided on the show we've asked the children to start practising show songs and working on their dance moves. Have a super break and see you all for the final countdown to the next big adventure.

Many thanks

Mrs Martin & Mrs Wilkinson
